Online events without limits: with go4live

Realise your livestream, digital or hybrid event now.
Planning a digital trade fair, online convention, a straightforward livestream – or some kind of combination? Then with us you're with exactly the right people - go4live offers high-end technology combined with wide-ranging experience in the event sector and multimedia production. We realise digital and hybrid events as well as professional livestreams using our proprietary (fixed and mobile) recording studios with guaranteed data security. According to our motto "everything from one source", we work with you to support all stages of planning and implementation, from generating ideas to follow-up.
